Education for International Understanding)

“Today’s young people are more interconnected that never before”

But does it help to Educate Youth as Leaders, Innovators, and Change-makers for Sustainable Development ?

If you want to educate, ask first what they need!

- Do surveys
- Talk with your peers
- Built a community
- Engage the community
- Inform people about your findings
- Build your meessage

If we want changes we have to invest in all these 3 components:

How to do it?

- Think big: what you want to reach? Where you want to be?
- Start small: consult 5 of your friends/ peers, take a picture of the actual situation, google the subject, find a community working on this
- Act now: join a movement or create a movement, post every days about what you care and invite others to support you, talk to your family, friends, find a mentor and do it 10 min, but every day!

always speak about your ideas and

When you talk

Tell me, I will forget!
Show me, I will remember!
Engage me, I will understand!
